Define and Promote Wellness Goals

GiveRight Employee Wellness assists CSR Directors in setting specific goals and arranging internal periodic events to promote the company's wellness programs and drive employees to achieve preset goals.

Sets Up Easily for Small to Medium Sized Businesses

GiveRight Employee Wellness makes it easier for small to medium-sized organizations to quickly create a diverse set of wellness programs that promote their employees' well-being,

FEATURES

Specify Company Wellness Goals

Assists with defining the wellness goals which are important to your company. Goals can be measured by several dimensions (quantity, time, satisfaction).

Track Responses via Custom Transactions

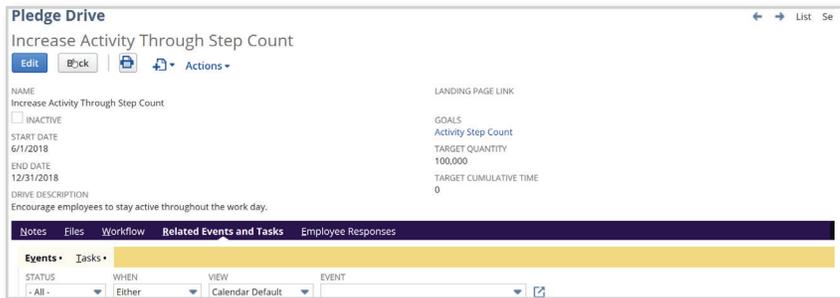

Leveraging NetSuite's custom transaction capability, employee responses can be associated with different pledges. This data is part of NetSuite, so standard reporting provides detailed analysis.

Provides Automated Reporting

Provides a user-friendly experience that eliminates sign-up barriers for participation and reporting of donated time. It also offers incentives to spark activity through donation credits when needed.

Volunteer Analytics

Allows for easy monitoring of goals by the employee and the CSR Director creating periodic automated reports to monitor the progress of the wellness program. The application offers easy monitoring of goals by employees and the CSR Director through automated progress reports.
